BRUCE ROWE

The Chrysalis is coming:

the vast evolutionary process through which the earth moves from one stage to the next, creating gentler environments and hence gentler creatures through adaptation, under the watchful eyes of the Creators of All Things. In the meantime, Renwick and his lagomorphs are in danger of being overwhelmed by the vicious chief of the Dire Wolves, Caden and his sinister brood of allies.

A perilous quest must be undertaken; a violent and merciless enemy confronted. Be prepared for a tale of epic triumph, tragedy and transformation...

MEL LEE NEWMIN

Humanity's worst nightmare: an intelligent alien race equipped with vast spacecraft is attacking the furthest outposts of Earth's expansion — attacking ruthlessly, brutally and relentlessly, refusing to communicate. Their onslaught is so merciless that it is kept secret from the world's population for fear of mass panic.

When expert linguist and political rebel Daj Dimarco is press-ganged into the desperate diplomatic mission charged with ending the aggression, he has little hope of ever returning to his former life on Earth. But when an unexpected confrontation with a member of his own crew suddenly flings him into a world he could never have imagined, Daj becomes the only hope for humanity's continuing existence— if he can somehow stay alive himself...

Mel Lee Newmin presents a story destined to be a classic of the science fiction genre: a fast-paced, multilayered adventure which is also richly textured and thought-provoking.

MARK SCHEEL

The year is 1967. Mel Steadman, a Midwestern farm youth recovering from a severe head injury, becomes dissatisfied living at home and hops a bus to California. He finds work in a low-rent hotel chain and mingles with the young drifters along Hollywood Boulevard. Soon he bonds with an estranged night wanderer named Burch who clerks in a shop called The Potter's Wheel and encounters a free-spirited femme fatale named Maureen. Adventure follows adventure, culminating, however, in abandonment and violence...

“Having experienced the turbulent California sixties myself, I can vouch that Scheel’s portrayal of the people and the times is spot on. Once again, turn on, tune in, drop out!”

COOKING WITH MAMMA

GIUSEPPINA MARINO LEYLAND

From the prologue of this unique e-book:

In late 2019, a coronavirus emerges in Wuhan, China, causing the disease known as 'COVID-19', also dubbed 'Corona' and 'Rona'. On January 30, 2020, the World Health Organisation (WHO) declares the outbreak a global public health emergency as more than 9,000 cases are reported worldwide, including in eighteen countries beyond China. It then spreads to more than 200 countries and territories. On February 24, Italy becomes the worst-hit country in Europe as cases spike and health officials announce the sixth death from the virus. We watch in astonishment from the other side of the globe as Italy goes into lockdown...

Meanwhile, Mamma is living by herself in Adelaide and complaining of loneliness. I ring her every day to check on her, sometimes twice a day. We talk a lot about cooking. It is a point of connection and helps span the inter-generational gulf that has always existed between us. Over the long Easter weekend, I go half mad from social isolation and decide to quit my job and relocate to Adelaide to help care for Mamma. And thus, begins a period of austerity and reflection which has led to this creation— an eclectic mix of anecdotes, recipes, cooking tips and photographs...

RUTH MORGAN

“So, Superintendent you’re the man who watched my daughter die?”

The Whitworth Mysteries are a collection of short crime fiction stories set in and around a rural city located in outback New South Wales. Beneath the sunshine of Whitworth, lurk dark secrets, deceit and betrayal.

“Never point a loaded gun at anyone, unless you mean to kill them.”

Beyond the murky waters of the river, and a bank lined with ancient river red gums is a land of red dust, blue saltbush and vast empty spaces.

The squeak of hemp rope... as the suspended weight moved, caught by the breeze.

In a small country town, police officers are reliant on each other, a band of blue. A rural posting is punishment for some, isolation from a vibrant city. For others an attempted escape. Some are forced to confront the decisions of the past, and pay the price. The harsh nature of the climate, floods, violent storms, and the almost limitless open spaces are as much a character as the humans themselves.

AS RECOMMENDED BY
C. S. LEWIS'S STEP-SON
DOUGLAS GRESHAM

'This new book Surprised by Myth, a collaboration between Justin Wiggins and Grant Hudson, is a remarkable piece of work. It stands apart from most other works of its kind, if indeed there are any, in that both Justin and Grant each take their own viewpoint about the complex writings and attitudes of my Stepfather C. S. Lewis, and write their feelings and ideas about the work and indeed the man himself accordingly. To our benefit, this results in all of us being able to see differing angles on Lewis's ways of writing, and why both these two men (and anyone else) can read his works from very different background ideologies.'

‘ONE MAN’S CANDID MEMOIR OF HEALING AND PERSONAL GROWTH...’

In Surprised by Agape, Justin Wiggins relates a personal story of redemption, but one in which he seeks to engage the reader by touching on universal themes. His own lifeline in his darkest days - the threefold cord of Lewis and MacDonald's writings, and the music of Switchfoot — is shared as an example of the potent forces of creative art, given to us by the Creator himself, and capable of leading us back, in MacDonald's words, to the 'home of His heart'.

- David Jack, translator of the Scots/English novels of George MacDonald

Journey to a world that is both deeply human and strangely phantasmagorical...

Cuentos del Cañón is a series of a dozen stories set in or near the same canyon that is home to Carmen's first novel El Hermano. We feel the palpable agony of the parents of an infant victim of the evil eye, the terror of the victims of realistic nightmares, and the wonder of a youth shoved to safety by his cousin who is actually in France. The Devil appears in the middle of a dance, an entire village disappears, Saint Death teaches humans life lessons, and a serpent that nightmares are made of exists in a corner of Sangre de Cristos — these are a few of the stories you'll find in this collection by award-winning story-teller, Carmen Baca.

G. MARINO LEYLAND

Giuseppina (Pina) Marino Leyland is a social worker, author and artist. She was born in Australia, of Italian immigrant parents, and currently lives in Sydney. Pina was awarded a Master of Arts in Creative Writing by the University of Technology Sydney in 2011, and has a special interest in oral history and family heritage stories. Pezzi Pazzi | Crazy Pieces is her first collection of creative writing. Clarendon House Publications has previously published several of these 'crazy pieces' in mixed genre anthologies in 2017– 2019.

Pezzi Pazzi | Crazy Pieces by Giuseppina Marino Leyland

Charming, sensitive, beautiful, Giuseppina Marino Leyland's exceptional book is a mixed genre collection of creative writing, including short stories and fragments of poetry, with a mini novella as the centrepiece. Quirky and eclectic and infused with an Italian–Australian flavour, you'll find tales of gypsies, women seeking to know their destinies, relationships good and bad, and wonderfully rich stories reflecting the experience of settling in Australia in the '50s,

'60s and beyond. The theme of Italian–Australian migration and settlement permeates the collection, criss-crossing time and space, the settings shifting from Italy to Australia and then back again. Spilling over from believable tales about rounded, warm characters into wisdom about the human condition itself, the overarching theme of the anthology is 'crazy life'—the world is crazy and we are all a little crazy in it.

ELIZABETH MONTAGUE

I am a multi genre author from Hertfordshire where I live with my husband and daughter. My short story collection, Dust and Glitter, was released in May 2019 by Clarendon House Publications who have previously featured my stories in eight of their anthologies.

Dust and Glitter: A Short Story Collection by Elizabeth Montague

In 2018, Clarendon House published Elizabeth Montague's story 'The Little Girl

Who Stole The Wind' in its children's stories anthology, Window. The tale went on to garner the most readers' votes and won its author the opportunity to publish this collection of her own fiction.

That story is included in Dust and Glitter — where we discover what life would really be like in an artificial body, where atheists write to God and receive replies, where a lifelong scar marks you for having taken a life, where clowns and demons abide, and much more. From intensely real psychological drama to the edge of imagination, from gut-wrenching urban crises to edgy adventures in space, in this collection of short stories Elizabeth Montague demonstrates her prodigious range and style as an author.

From flash fiction tales intended to shock and amuse, to glorious literary character explorations to be relished; from science fiction and fantasy to humour and children's literature, here are the cutting edges of today's short fiction from new and established authors all over the world.

Gold:

The Best from Clarendon House Anthologies Volume One: 2017/2018

Poetica: The Inner Circle Writers' Group Poetry Anthology 2019

It's unfortunate that most of us are introduced to poetry at school, where it is seen (unfortunately even by some teachers) as a chore, a tedious labour. But poetry, like wine, is all about a concentrated distillation of flavour, a condensed experience of something, a skilled presentation of beauty that goes beyond the ordinary and can approach the divine. Defined by the dictionary as 'a literary work in which the expression of feelings and ideas is given intensity by the use of distinctive style and rhythm', the word in its early use sometimes referred to creative literature as a whole. Like wine tasters, we must learn to develop our palates so that we can appreciate the intensity and beauty of words and what they can evoke for us — and in this collection, you will find plenty of opportunity to do so, as we are invited into miniature worlds of grace, grittiness and grandeur, there to share wisdom and wit, elegance and exquisiteness, power and passion.

Blaze: The Inner Circle Writers' Group Flash Fiction Anthology 2019

Writers are spellbinders, wizards, witches, working their magic with words, entrancing and enchanting us. Not for nothing does the word 'spell' mean a sequence of letters and a form of words used as a magical charm or incantation. In these tales, the sorcery has been restricted so that its glamour has to work in the space of fifty, five hundred or a thousand words: and work it does, as you will see. From disturbing darkness to light-hearted laughter, the authors within weave their wizardry, making you weep and laugh, feel and think, shiver and gasp, always wanting to turn the page.

Fireburst: The Inner Circle Writers' Group Second Flash Fiction Anthology 2018

Intense, keen, extreme, sincere, deeply felt, wholehearted - you'll find stories within ranging from the amusing to the overwhelming, from the earnest to the cute, you will scarcely believe what can be done in less than 2,000 words per tale.

Cadence: The Inner Circle Writers' Group Poetry Anthology 2018

A whole range is here, from the almost incomprehensible but energetic, to the light-hearted and the profound, to the serene and transcendent. You'll find poets who are raw in their talent, and others who are well-practised; you'll discover things that you never dreamed of and have thoughts you could never quite put into words appearing on the page before you. ## Flashpoint: The Inner Circle Writers' Group Flash Fiction Anthology 2018

There's tragedy, there's humour, there's science fiction and drama, there's a mixture of just about everything here, from completely new and long-established short story writers. You will never know what lies waiting for you on the next electrifying page...

Galaxy: The Inner Circle Writers' Group Science Fiction Anthology 2018

From a mix of brand new and well-established short story writers comes this fantastic mix of tales, intense, haunting, compelling, to pluck at your hearts and stretch your vision of both the future and the past.

Condor: The Inner Circle Writers' Group Inaugural Anthology 2018

Here, you'll find super-short 'flash fiction' as well as fairly lengthy tales which might serve as the basis of greater novels; you'll find whimsical fantasy and gritty reality; you'll find contemporary realism and flowery fancy. You'll find some writers at the tentative beginning of their careers, and others further along that road. This is a celebration of sorts of the art of writing, the joy of it, the freedom of it. Ours is a lonely job, but a magical one; we are the spellbinders and conjurers of modern times, taking simplistic symbols and combining them in special ways to produce a range of wonderful effects.

CIRCLE
GROUP

'Our little ICWG family is certainly a wonderful group full of kindness and encouragement. It's wonderful to see the growth of so many writers from the help and guidance they've received from this group alone.'
- E. Montague,
author

The Inner Circle Writers' Group is the social arm of Clarendon House Publications.

ProWritingAid recently listed us as one of the best groups for writers on Facebook:

'Everyone loves Grant, the founder of The Inner Circle Writers' Group, almost as much as they love the warm, supportive environment that always stays professional and on-topic. The members are encouraging, and the moderators keep abusive non-writers to a minimum. Several professional writers call The Inner Circle Writers'

Group "home." Join the group and get ready for lots of interaction and engagement in a friendly, family atmosphere. Everyone shares and celebrates each other's successes, and many feel spurred to become and do better.'

This group is for writers interested in the craft and practice of writing and everything connected with that. Members are entitled to exclusive services from Clarendon House and are offered multiple submission opportunities.

It's completely free and fun.

What people have said about

CLARENDON HOUSE PUBLICATIONS

J. McCulloch, Author

Clarendon House has what the majority of other publishers lack; the personal touch. Grant Hudson draws people into his cosy library (also known as the Inner Circle Writers' Group), sits them down and works his magic. Many new writers lack confidence in their ability, so Grant fine tunes their perspective, boosts their morale and sets them up to win. I have been humbled by his untiring efforts to help us all. We are his people. He is our mentor, our eccentric English professor and our much valued friend.

D. Taylor, Author

As I was scrolling fb, and seeing all these ads from people claiming to help authors do this and do that, I thought to myself, Grant Hudson is the genuine mentor. Thanks for your solid advice.

P. O'Neil, Author

Grant is the model mentor for this new age of writing.

A. Delf, Author

The world is better with all this beautiful work seen at last.

M. Ahmed, Author

A place where good literature is nurtured.

Brandy Metheney Bonifas, Author

Clarendon House Publications is everything publishing should be. Grant Hudson is a caring editor and mentor who works closely with authors to produce top quality publications, and his writing community, The Inner Circle Writers' Group, is a safe and encouraging environment where established authors share their expertise and new writers are nurtured to spread their wings. I highly recommend!
